How much will I earn per week, compared to someone with no qualifications?

“ Most paid sportspeople are semi-professional, earning some money from sport, and working a second job to make a living.

“ Semi-professional and some Olympic sportspeople based in New Zealand earn varying amounts – from the minimum wage to $60,000 a year or more.

“ Top-level sportspeople in internationally popular sports, may earn hundreds of thousands of dollars in salary or winnings.
